

Dataflight Software, Inc.

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Jennifer Stevenson
310/471-3414, ext. 15
jennifer@dataflight.com

H7b1 to Resell Concordance, Opticon and FYI in Europe

Award-Winning Dataflight Products Now Available through European Consulting Firm

LOS ANGELES, July 27, 2004 – Dataflight Software, a global leader in litigation support software, today announced that H7b1, a Swiss litigation support company, will offer Dataflight’s software products and services through its European offices.

“We are delighted with the relationship that we have formed with Dataflight Software,” says Rafik Emmanuel Abboud, H7b1’s Managing Partner and Dataflight Certified Trainer. “As an official partner and reseller, we offer a single source for Dataflight software sales, training, support, and technology consulting in Europe.”

“The global nature of litigation today means European firms and International firms in Europe increasingly have to manage and access legal documents as efficiently as their American counterparts,” says Jeff Lipsman, president, Dataflight Software, Inc. “Just as our software streamlines legal document management, H7b1 brings a strong commitment to delivering effective legal document solutions to global organizations.”

About H7b1

H7b1 (www.h7b1.com), with Practice Support Mobile Units covering all of Europe, is a specialized company providing law firms, corporate legal departments and administrations with legal document management services, solutions and training. Pioneering litigation support in Europe from its base in Geneva, Switzerland, H7b1 is a company founded on values of confidentiality, tradition, independence and mobility. Services include imaging, copying, printing, international coding, electronic data discovery, consulting and training. They are fully scalable to meet the needs of individual clients and projects while retaining a competitive cost structure comparable to those found in the United States market.

About Dataflight Software

Founded in 1986, Dataflight Software, Inc. builds award-winning software solutions for the legal industry. Concordance and Opticon set the industry standard for litigation database management and image management software. Favored by AmLaw 200 firms, the Fortune 100, and the USDOJ, Concordance effectively manages discovery data for trial. Opticon simplifies image management and document production. Leading law firms with enterprise licenses include Latham & Watkins; Sidley Austin; Kirkland & Ellis; Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher; O’Melveny & Myers; and many others. Dataflight Software is located at 2337 Roscomare Road, Suite 11, Los Angeles, CA 90077. For more information contact us at 310/471-3414, info@dataflight.com or www.dataflight.com.

###